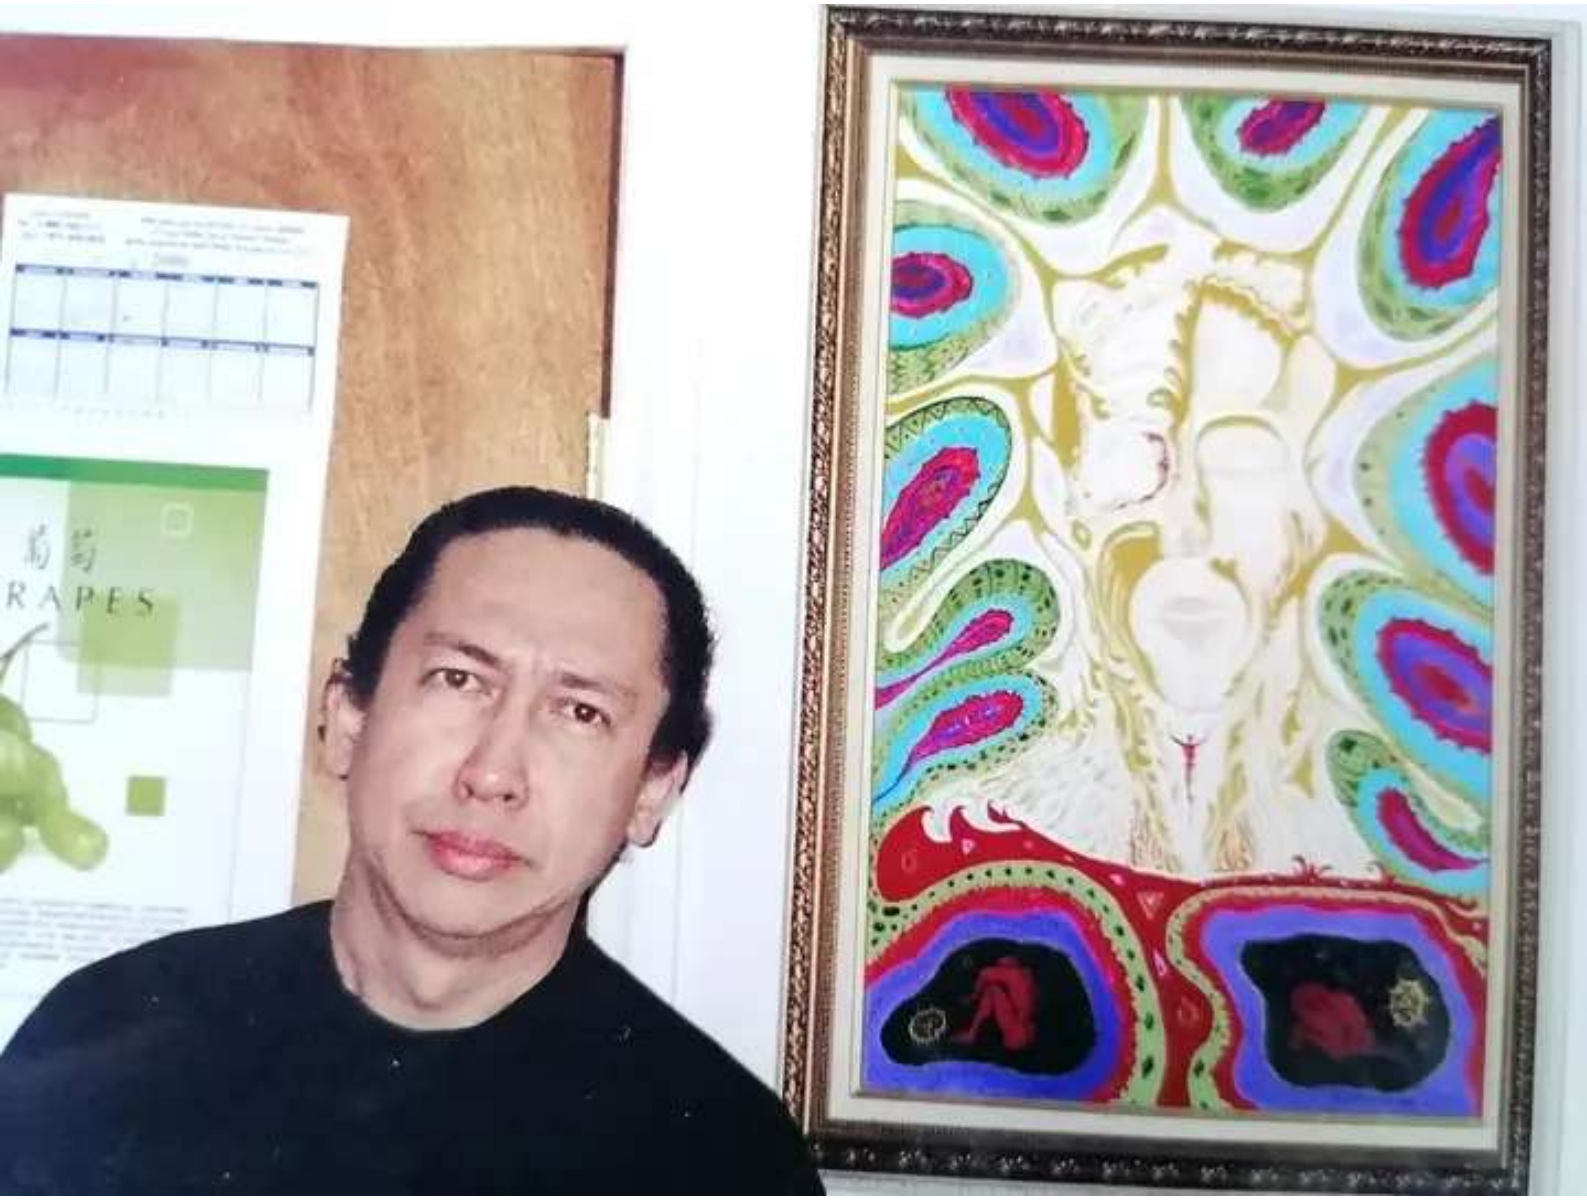
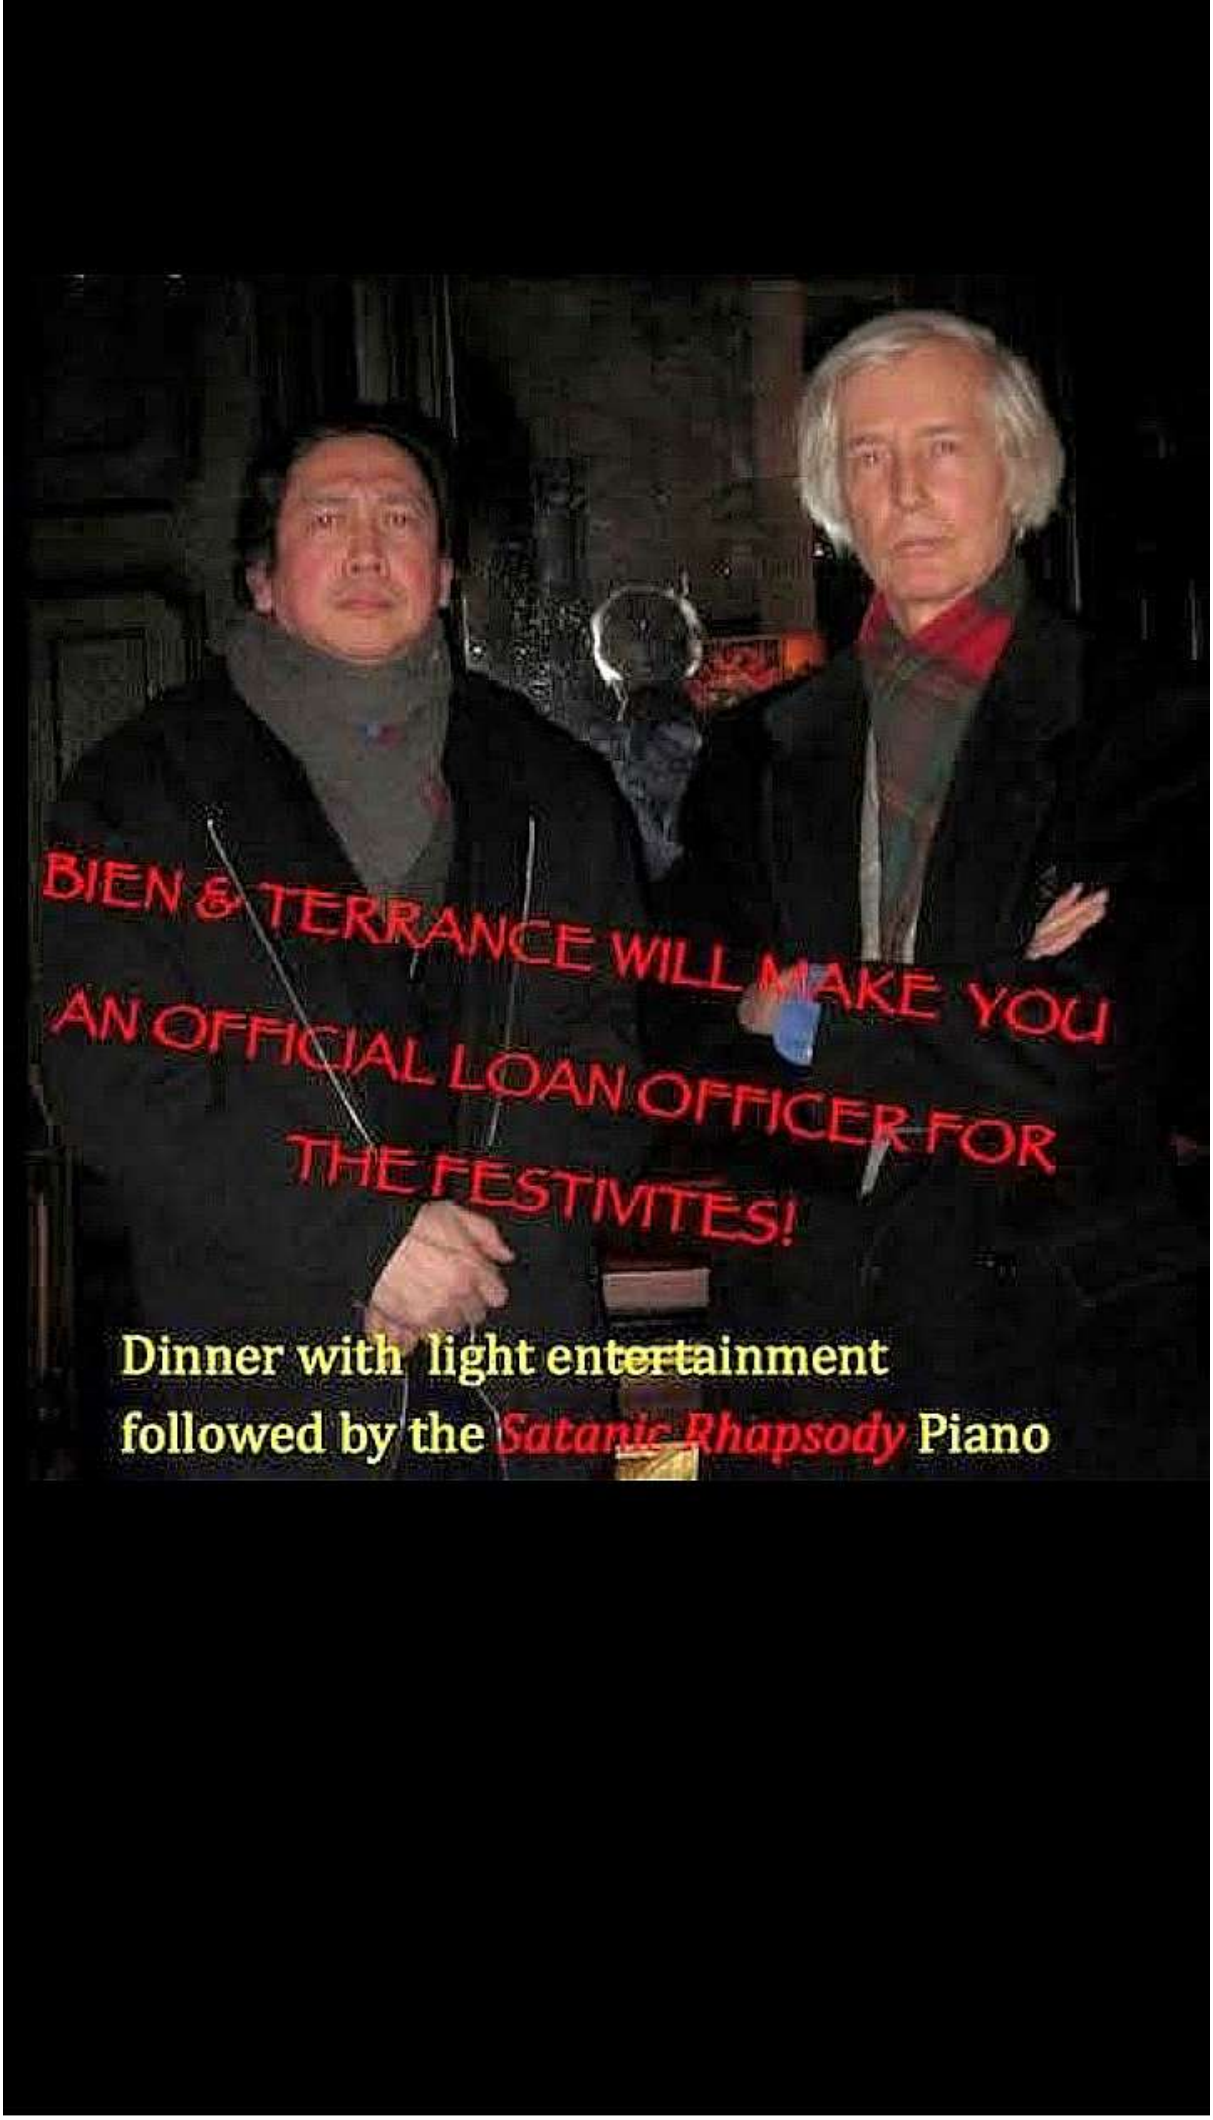
WILLIAM C. BONES

Left side upper: The original name on birth certificate is Michael Bones Doromal but my Mother Emma Cañet Bones changed to Michael Cañet Bones, Emma Bones Bañez married to Atty Bienvenido Fiel Bañez, Grandpa Andres Costa Bones, Atty Bienvenido Fiel Bañez. & right lower: Emmanuel Bones Bañez, Eunice Bones Ann Bañez, Ruth Bones Bañez, & Bienvenido Bones Bañez Jr.



RAPES



BIEN & TERRANCE WILL MAKE YOU
AN OFFICIAL LOAN OFFICER FOR THE FESTIVITES!
Dinner with light entertainment followed by the Satanic Rhapsody Piano

666 ART WORLD WICKEDPEDIA!!!
Well let Satan leaping for joy!

Wickenheiser (deceased 2015) and Banez are two friends, among others, of Lindall's who motivated the latter to write a memoir of how the largest Milton artists project developed. Aptly called The Milton Brotherhood of Paradise Lost, the book promises to detail the continuing and expanding journey of profundity and beauty bestowed on contemporary artists and neo-pandits whose artistic and intellectual prowess are immersed in the immortality of Paradise Lost. https://issuu.com/lindall/docs/the_milton_brotherood_reduced

My Mother Emma Bones with my mural painting of Extinction-(Satan Brings Color To The World) on workable, throwback 1983 until I finished the painting on April 1984 for my First One Man Show at Learning Center of the Arts-(Ford Academy of the Arts) with Philippine National Artist Victorio Edades in cutting the ribbon for opening ceremony. Our first historical chapter was in Davao City, Philippines.